

Is God Bipolar? Old Testament vs. New Testament

May 23, 2010

Summary of Today's Lesson: Both the Old and New Testament show one picture of God. Any interpretation or understanding contradicting that fact, is false. God is one and is consistent to His character throughout history. He is, however, revealing more and more of Himself as time progresses. Therefore, we must develop a bigger picture of God, based on His word, and not on our personal interpretations.

- God has one plan of REDEMPITIVE HISTORY revealed through PROGRESSIVE REVELATION.
- We are a FINITE creation trying to understand an INFINITE Creator.
- God is SOVEREIGN.
- God is ETERNAL.
- God is CREATOR.
- God is JUST.
- God is GENEROUS.
- God is HUMBLE.
- God is HOLY.
- The New Testament is a COMMENTARY on the Old Testament.
- While God's character remains THE SAME, His display of that character GROWS.

We need a bigger view of God!

Is God Bipolar? Old Testament vs. New Testament

May 23, 2010

Summary of Today's Lesson: Both the Old and New Testament show one picture of God. Any interpretation or understanding contradicting that fact, is false. God is one and is consistent to His character throughout history. He is, however, revealing more and more of Himself as time progresses. Therefore, we must develop a bigger picture of God, based on His word, and not on our personal interpretations.

- God has one plan of REDEMPITIVE HISTORY revealed through PROGRESSIVE REVELATION.
- We are a FINITE creation trying to understand an INFINITE Creator.
- God is SOVEREIGN.
- God is ETERNAL.
- God is CREATOR.
- God is JUST.
- God is GENEROUS.
- God is HUMBLE.
- God is HOLY.
- The New Testament is a COMMENTARY on the Old Testament.
- While God's character remains THE SAME, His display of that character GROWS.

We need a bigger view of God!